FOUNDATIONS FOR A SUSTAINABLE FUTURE

THE FIFTH SESSION

MARCH 21-25, 2018
Welcome from the Program Director

Dear Delegates and Advisors,

In October 2012, three young leaders studying at African Leadership Academy spoke with me about an idea which they had – organizing a simulation of the African Union as a different experience from the more widely-known simulation of the United Nations. They thought that a small weekend conference bringing together students from across Johannesburg would be a great idea. Their enthusiasm was matched by my deep passion for creating a process by which young African leaders can engage in deliberate study about the instruments of governance and attempt to develop well-reasoned and implementable solutions to some of the continent’s development challenges while also maximizing our opportunities for growth. Within weeks, the African Leadership Academy Model African Union (ALAMAU) was born.

For the last five years, it has been one of the great delights of my life to welcome some of the world’s most passionate students and educators to Johannesburg for this incredible simulation of the African Union – what represents the best attempt known today to enable broad-based growth for almost a billion people. The African Union is not a perfect organization (none exists) and it is beset by several challenges, which is why this process of simulation is extremely important. By immersing themselves in this process of attempting to lead the continent forward through an imperfect organization, young leaders are introduced early to the realities of public sector-led innovations, thereby positioning themselves to be far better stewards of the continent’s future than their predecessors.

What we have created here at ALAMAU is guaranteed to be a fairly challenging experience for delegates – there are expectations of detailed research, intense negotiations, painstaking documentation, and feasible recommendations. We expect delegates to feel stretched in their ability to devise ways forward in sectors as critical as energy, education, healthcare, public governance, science and technology among others, but we also expect them to try hard. The path to sustainable development for the continent has not been straightforward, but successive generations have played pivotal roles and this generation must build on those efforts to lead the continent forward.

I must pay tribute to the 53 young leaders at African Leadership Academy whose efforts over the past twelve months have made this conference possible. As we look back on five years of success, I also honour the more than 200 young leaders who have been part of the organizing team across all our conferences, and the 761 delegates and 140 advisors who have now been part of an ALAMAU experience. I am excited for the work that will be done during these five days and the outcomes which we will generate. Our efforts are valuable, and Africa is the great beneficiary.

Best wishes for a fantastic conference.

Sincerely,

Faith Abiodun

Welcome from the Chairperson

Dear Delegates and Faculty Advisors,

Welcome to ALAMAU 2018! The wait has been long and it is with great pleasure that I finally welcome you all to this conference that will transform your lives.

ALAMAU began five years ago as an idea that came about as a result of a lack of engagement and focus for Africa’s development through the youth. This idea developed into a vision that was eventually brought into fruition with a boost of passion, and here we are, bringing forth the 5th session with nothing but pride and satisfaction. All the work and efforts that have gone into putting this conference together have come from a team of dedicated and hardworking young leaders like you who are eager to bring change to the African continent. Nonetheless, you have chosen to get from your experience at ALAMAU 2018, to instil positive change in your community. Indeed, ALAMAU brings young passionate diplomats together to empower them by addressing the issues confronting the continent and brainstorming implementable solutions for the betterment of Africa.

ALAMAU is one of a few conferences of this nature on the continent and it is an honour for us to have you grow in our committees as you embody the role of African leaders in discussing and tackling the continent’s problems. We often hear about Africa having some of the fastest growing economies in the world and that we possess the world’s most youthful population as well as a wide variety of natural resources meaning that we have the capacity to grow beyond measure. The reality is that we are stuck. We have the potential to be far better than where we currently are, but we are growing at a very negligible rate. Hence this year’s conference theme: Foundations for a Sustainable Future. We need to look back, to see where we were and think actively, about where we are headed. We need to mobilize our potential and bring our dreams to life by building foundations for a prosperous future. A future where African countries work hand-in-hand to foster peace and development with one another.

Delegates, you must use this time to explore deeply and immerse yourself in debate and discussions about Africa’s future and learn the importance of the role you will play in our continent’s development. I encourage you to be open-minded throughout the conference, inside and outside your committees. I also urge you to take time to socialize and build your networks as you are Africa’s future. You will also have the chance of meeting inspirational and impactful people so make the best of it. Advisors, you also play an important role as your students learn about how to solve the Africa’s issues and begin give back to their communities. In this conference, you will take part in many discussions about how you, as educators, can prepare them to be the next generation of leaders.

I hope that you all came prepared to learn and have a wonderful time as you take on a challenging journey on becoming a leader.

Once again, welcome to ALAMAU 2018.

Discover some fascinating features of the beautiful city of Johannesburg, home of ALAMAU. All participants at ALAMAU 2018 are invited to visit these popular tourist attractions.

Crade of Humankind and Sterkfontein Caves
The Cradle of Humankind is one of eight World Heritage Sites in South Africa. It is widely recognised as the place from which all of humankind originated. While the exact shape of the human family tree is something scientists are still debating, the one thing that they mostly agree on is that humankind was born here in Africa. In the Cradle of Humankind, about 1,000 hominid fossils have been discovered, spanning several million years. Within the Sterkfontein Caves, scientists have discovered many hominid and other animal fossils, dating back more than 4-million years, to the birth of humanity. There are a number of tight spots and pathways to negotiate in the caves and it is unsuitable to do the tour if you are claustrophobic. It is also not advisable for people who suffer from acute asthma or chest problems to do the tour as there are a lot of stairs. Learn more at https://www.maropeng.co.za/

Sandton City Mall & Nelson Mandela Square
Sandton City Mall is one of Africa’s leading and most prestigious shopping centres, home to more than 300 shops such as Burberry, Cotton On, Edgars and many more. The Mall is adjoining the impressive Nelson Mandela Square featuring a 6-metre high statue of Nelson Mandela which attracts tourists all year round. This will be the only ALAMAU organiser trip to a shopping mall. Delegates that wish not to shop at Sandton City would like to shop on another day should organise their own trips to the respective shopping centres of their choice. You can find the shop directory for Sandton city mall here: http://sandtoncity.com/

Soweto - Vilakazi Street
Soweto is a suburb in Johannesburg (short form for South Western Township) that was once the centre of the black South African struggle during the Apartheid era, and was the home of prominent leaders like Nelson Mandela and Desmond Tutu. The Hector Pieterson Museum is a lasting tribute to the efforts of young South African students who were killed during the protests of June 1976, as they worked towards a better South African society. This tour will allow you the opportunity to visit the home of Nelson Mandela and the Hector Pieterson Museum to learn more about the struggle to racial equality under the apartheid regime of South Africa.

Montecasino
Montecasino is one of the top entertainment destination in Johannesburg. From thrilling gaming and exciting promotions to mesmerising stage productions, Montecasino has a wide range of entertainment offerings for you to enjoy. You can dine at some of the most popular restaurants in Johannesburg. The Indaba Hotel
Since our 2017 conference, ALAMAU has been hosted at the 4-star Indaba Hotel and Conference Centre in Fourways, Johannesburg. The Indaba Hotel is a country-style hotel situated in a picturesque location at the heart of a tropical setting surrounded by a luxuriant garden and open to the magnificent view of the Magaliesberg Mountains. Indaba Hotel is strategically located nearby the financial heartbeat of Africa, Sandton.

Being only 10 minutes from the luxurious Sandton City Mall, The Indaba Hotel gives easy access to many other shopping destinations such as the Fourways Mall and Montecasino, as well as all the main highways in the region. The hotel boasts full en-suite and air-conditioned bedrooms with luxurious accommodation, complemented with award winning conference and banqueting facilities. Delegates to ALAMAU 2018 will have all their conferencing needs and meals catered for by the hotel.

We are incredibly grateful to the Susan McKinnon Foundation for their generous support of the African Leadership Academy Model African Union.

Thank you for investing in Africa’s development and in its youth.

Susan McKinnon Foundation is a non-partisan organization focusing on policy governance and political leadership including effective governance and international leadership. http://www.susanmckinnon.org.au
Dress Code
Delegates are required to be dressed in either western business attire or African formal attire during committee sessions. Western business attire for men consists of dress suits, dress shirts, dress pants, ties, socks and dress shoes. Denim, t-shirts, sneakers and sandals are not permitted. Ladies are expected to be dressed in pant suits, skirt suits, dress gowns, blouses with skirts or pants and dress shoes. Clothes that expose excessive bare skin or are otherwise revealing are deemed inappropriate.

Internet Usage
There will be wireless internet connectivity for all delegates and advisors on the campus of African Leadership Academy and at The Indaba Hotel. Passwords will be given out where necessary.

Badges and Placards
All delegates and advisors are required to wear their conference badges throughout the duration of the conference. Delegates are also advised to keep their badges safely and have them in use for every committee session; however, delegates without placards will not be permitted to participate in committee sessions. In the event of the loss of other placards or badges, delegates must contact the administration team as quickly as possible.

Faculty Advisor Program
There will be a number of optional and mandatory activities for faculty advisors throughout the conference. Advisors are invited for a welcome reception at 1600h on Wednesday March 21st, 2018 at The Indaba Hotel. There will also be five sessions in the faculty advisor learning series. Advisors should take notes of all these sessions which will be held in the faculty advisor lounge. Advisors are free to observe their delegates in committee sessions when there is nothing scheduled in the advisor programme.

Cultural Night
All delegates and advisors are invited to participate in the Cultural Night on Friday March 23rd, 2018. Attendees are encouraged to be dressed in traditional African attire (or any attire that symbolizes their home countries or countries of residence). Delegates are also welcome to bring little momentos from their countries’ to share with other delegates.

Tours of Johannesburg
All delegates and advisors are invited to participate in organized tours of Johannesburg from 13h30 – 18h00 on Saturday March 24th, 2018. There will be five separate tour groups: one to the Cradle of Humankind and Sterkfontein Caves, one to Sandton City Mall, one to the Apartheid Museum, one to Montecasino, and the other to Soweto. The Apartheid Museum documents the dark history of the Apartheid era in South Africa and showcases highlights of the life of Nelson Mandela. Soweto is a suburb in Johannesburg that was often the centre of the black South African struggle during the Apartheid era, and was the home of prominent leaders like Nelson Mandela and Desmond Tutu. The Cradle of Humankind documents the origin of the human race and includes several artifacts from the earliest civilizations known to man and the Sterkfontein Caves which are 195 million years below the earth’s surface. The Sandton City shopping mall and Montecasino have several shopping centers, including a flea market for arts and crafts, bowling alleys, movie theatres, restaurants etc. Delegates and advisors can sign up for any of the tours.

Gala Dinner
Delegates and advisors are invited to celebrate the success of ALAMAU over the past five years and its impact on youth leadership in Africa at a gala dinner to be held from 19h30 – 21h30 on Saturday March 24th, 2018. It is a black-tie event. There will be special recognitions for individuals and institutions who have contributed to the success of the conference since inception.

Delegates’ Party
Delegates are invited to celebrate the hard work done at ALAMAU 2018 at a party to be held from 22h30 – 23h00 on Saturday March 24th, 2018. Delegates are encouraged to be casually dressed for the party.

Assembly of Heads of State and Government
ALAMAU 2018 will simulate the African Union’s Assembly of Heads of State and Government in a single plenary session to discuss all of the resolutions passed in individual committees and develop a comprehensive conference-wide action plan. All delegates will be expected to participate in the session on Sunday March 25th, 2018 before the closing ceremony.

Health and First Aid
In the event of a Health emergency, delegates are required to notify a member of the ALAMAU staff immediately. There will be trained First Aid personnel at African Leadership Academy and Indaba Hotel to attend to First Aid needs, should that be required. If a case requires referral to a hospital, the delegate will be referred to the closed hospital.

Security
ALAMAU will do everything possible to guarantee the safety and security of all conference participants; however, delegates must take all necessary caution to keep themselves safe. No delegates should leave the conference premises without permission of the administration staff and their faculty advisors. Failure to comply with this rule will be met with disciplinary procedures at the discretion of the Chairperson. All delegates are advised to have all personal belongings securely locked. Delegates should also avoid ostentatious display of personal effects. In the event of an emergency, please immediately contact Mr. Faith Abiodun at 078 644 2649.
